

The FAA Safety Team presents:

Aviation Law: What Pilots Need to Know Session at HAI HELI- EXPO 2016

Pilots are expected to know and follow the Federal Aviation Regulations but have likely never heard about other important legal rights and responsibilities necessary to protect themselves professionally and financially. The primary objective of this session is to inform pilots about legal issues and standards applicable to their decision making and flight operations. History shows that better-informed pilots are more likely to follow the legal standards of conduct and are less likely to be involved in accidents. Bring your questions to ask an aviation lawyer.

Using case studies, this session will educate attendees about: Standards of conduct for pilots and determination of fault following an accident or incident. FAA/National Transportation Safety Board investigation procedures. Insurance coverage requirements and legal relationships between pilots and employers. This course is offered at HAI HELI-EXPO 2016, the world's largest helicopter trade show. For more information on HELI-EXPO and education courses, click here.
